Dear Colleagues,

It is a great pleasure for us to invite you to the 2nd Heidelberg Symposium “Multimodal and innovative treatment strategies in head and neck cancer”. This year emphasis will be on oral cavity cancer. With the experience of the 1st symposium in 2007 we are convinced that we will all spend a highly interesting day, full of intensive discussions.

This year’s meeting is conducted by the “Center for Head and Neck Oncology”, a novel institution of the University of Heidelberg and National Cancer Center (NCT) that emphasizes multidisciplinary treatment and high standard of care for our head and neck cancer patients. Regional experts will join the international faculty to widen/boost intellectual exchange.

The program will cover diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation of patients with cancers of the oral cavity. Topics will include surgical treatment strategies and reconstruction, but also aspects of radiation therapy, medical and immunotherapy. You will hear on aspects of rehabilitation, including prosthodontics. Furthermore, there will be a section on surgical innovations. Regional and international experts in the field will report on the applicability of the da Vinci robotic system in various areas of surgery including the head and neck region.

Join us in Heidelberg - not only for scientific information but also to meet friends and find new ones. We are sure that you will have a nice time and are looking forward to having you here.
